

Manage your contacts on-the-go

COSENTIAL FOR MOBILE

Business Development is all about building relationships while educating prospects on why your company is the best choice for them. It's safe to say your smart phone is your lifeline: most projects come from your relationships, but where do those check-ins, decisions, and strategic insights go?

While out nurturing prospects your opportunity data is held hostage somewhere in an email thread. Insights need to be at your fingertips to ensure you are never blindsided in a meeting and enable you to break into new markets.

The fastest way to bring teams and their data together is to enable the way you execute project pursuits today. Cosential for Mobile makes it easy for Business Developers, Doer-Sellers, and professionals out in the field to manage contacts and feed teams critical milestone moments straight from their smart phone.

Stay in-the-know with Companies, Contacts, Relationships and Activity Management while you're on-the-go.

We meet you where you are.

Cosential is the only growth platform that goes beyond a CRM in owning the pre-sales process for market leaders winning business in the AEC industry. Learn how easy it is to drive ahead with business pursuits while you're on-the-go with Cosential for Mobile.
